

May 15, 2012

Mike Archer
EAS Doors & Windows, Inc.
43 Jet Drive NW
Fort Walton Beach, FL 32548

As you know, Eden Condominiums is a gulf-side, luxury resort on Perdido Key in northwestern Florida. The condominium was built in multiple stages from the mid 1980's to 1990's, so there were many different balcony door designs utilized in the construction. After hurricane Ivan, Eden had a number of issues with balcony doors on the gulf side which finally were resolved with our insurance carrier in late 2010. Once we had the funds available, we searched for the best doors available on the market.

EAS came to Eden multiple times to review the door design, determine if they had a solution for us and quoted a competitive price for manufacture and installation. During various meetings on site, we determined some minor changes to the product for the Eden installation and EAS was very accommodating.

EAS replaced the doors in the bedrooms and living rooms of 10 units per the contract, on budget and on time. Eden is very pleased with both the quality of the doors and the quality of the workmanship down to the finishing touches including matching the interior wall paint colors in each condo. Our selection of EAS doors was based upon the testing completed by EAS to assure their hurricane rating, the low threshold access, the robust handle design and the fact that the rolling elements are at the top, away from sand and dirt. We are recommending EAS doors and windows to all Eden owners that are considering door replacement and have had additional owners install EAS doors.

Eden is extremely pleased with the quality of the products and the installation crew. Your crew conducted themselves in a very professional manner and made fast work of the old door removal and the installation of the door upgrade. We highly recommend EAS Doors and Windows, Inc. to anyone looking for the best door solution for areas prone to hurricanes. On behalf of the Eden Board, Owners and Staff, we thank EAS for a job well done!

As an Owner, I have two condos that have the EAS doors installed and feel that EAS was the best choice for the job.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Patrick J. Schibline". The signature is written in a cursive style.

Patrick J. Schibline
President, Eden Owner's Association
Eden Condominiums